Description

From the Potts River bridge, head up the hill for several kilometres until you can descend into the Potts River, having bypassed the gorgy sections.

Once down in the river, it is a matter of making a few crossings until the hut is eventually reached. To make the trip a loop, take the Potts Hut Track to the Dogs Range. If time and weather are on your side, continue along the range until Mystery Lake and hut, but if you like you can take a shortcut by dropping of the Dogs Range (as shown on the gpx file and map) west of the lake to join the Mystery Lake Track.

Once on Mystery Lake Track, around 200m above the Potts River, quick progress can be made back to the car park.
